

ELECTRIC MAN

I was born in a power station, without legs, without arms
The only thing that I could catch with my mouth was toxic waste
I eat it to survive, then I fall asleep
When I wake up I got two legs, two arms, a style a charm,
Something has changed in me, a great power,
A kind of ecstasy, an energy that's flowing in me

Atomic, Mystic, Electric Man

Now, Electric Man can walk, and dance, and sing,
He decided to give hope to humanity.
Thanks to his superpowers,
He began to made a band with electric instruments
The last electricity, the last man
Who can make the whole world dance

Electric man now is an attractive young man
His passion is addictive,
When he moves, when he dances, he's so positive
That he sheds light on everything that's radioactive

Through music and dance, he'll save the world
From nuclear invasion, of nation's oppression,
People regain hope when he says, (what ?)

When he says : DAAANCE !!!
